Pedestrian Rights.

Only in Great Britain, so far as we know, does the law hold that a foot passenger has an equal right to the highway with the wheeled traffic and that it is the duty of the driver of the latter to avoid at all costs the former, even if he has to do so at considerable inconvenience and often danger. In other countries, on the contrary, it is the duty of the pedestrian to give way to the wheeled traffic.—Atlanta Constitution.

How She Viewed It.
Perhaps she was jealous, perhaps she wasn't. Anyway, she had just heard of the engagement, and she could not help noticing the engaged girl's pride in her captured youth.
"Really," she said, and her lips curled scornfully, "there's no accounting for tastes, is there? Some people think they have won the game when they get the booty prize."

A Perilous Prospect.
Coldeck—I hadn't the heart to write a note. Break it gently to my wife, would you? His Second—Now, don't feel that way about it, my boy. You're coming out of this affair safe and sound. Coldeck—But it is more serious than you think. I have reliable information that Wildshot will fire in the air.—Puck.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration seems to be between 40 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; careless neglect being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by Red Cross pharmacy. Price 50c.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Barre People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words, but deeds that prove true merit.
The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills, for Barre kidney sufferers, have made their local reputation. Proof lies in the testimony of Barre people who have been cured to stay cured.

Norman B. York of a Prospect street, Barre, Vt., says: "Several years ago I gave a statement for publication telling what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for me, and I can now say that on account of the permanent cure they made in my case I can more highly recommend them than ever. I had been subject for six years to kidney trouble which I think was caused by a strain. I had awful pains in my back and a kidney weakness that showed those organs were affected. If I stopped it was with the greatest difficulty that I could regain an erect position. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at E. A. Drown's, and they proved instantly beneficial from the start. The pains in my back ceased and the secretion of the kidney secretions was regulated. During the years which have elapsed since that time there has never been the slightest return of the trouble, and I think this is good evidence that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Eastern Milling Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SCOTCH GRANITE (?)

A Popular Delusion Laid Bare, Plea for American Granite.

Now that we are getting our organization going nicely in Canada I think we ought to be making a study of the conditions we are up against in this part of North America and find if possible a remedy for them, says a writer to the Granite Cutters' Journal. The one in particular I will say a few words about now is, "The injury to our trade by the importation of a great deal of so-called Scotch granite that is not Scotch granite." If you call into any of the monumental yards in Canada, you will find in most cases that their stock contains 75 per cent. of Scotch monuments—at least that is what the dealer will tell you. Now in reality not one in fifty of these monuments are Scotch granite, but are Swedish, Norwegian, etc., and go under a dozen different names, such as Red Swede, Royal Red, Balmoral Red, etc., etc. These monuments come into Canada under the "preferential tariff," simply because they are finished and shipped from Scotland. Of the conditions in Norway and Sweden most of us are fully aware. The wages paid these Swedes, etc., are next to nothing, at least in comparison to ours; then the stuff is shipped to Aberdeen in old wooden bottoms that are fit for nothing else but to carry rough granite. The sailors are all Swedes and Norwegians. British seamen would never go aboard such hulks. Then, again, the laws governing apprentices in Scotland are bad, in many ways. Scotch granite at all, but are being uncooled with rubbish when compared to the real article. When the dealers realize that people won't take that stuff, they will only be too glad to boost and sell our own American granites, thereby giving our members more work at living wages. In Canada, at the present time, we have to rely almost entirely on the monumental trade; building so far here is very insignificant, but is gradually gaining ground, and we hope in the near future will play a very important part in our trade and we will then not be dependent on the monumental business.

Now that I have started with this poor attempt at writing, I hope some of our members who are scribes will take the matter up and give us the benefit of their opinions. Get a move on, boys; we can do a whole lot of good if we only move, I am sure. Think it over and let us hear next month from you through our Journal.

Dilemma of a Fickle Young Man.
An Atchison young man is in a dilemma. Several years ago he met an Atchison young girl and they became engaged. Both worked, and built enormous air castles and painted the future with all the colors of the rainbow. Both began to save and the girl was chosen as the banker. Every Saturday night the young man gave her part of his weekly salary. Now the girl has not less than $400 of the young man's money. He wants to break away, he has met another girl who looks better to him, but his first love won't release him. She tells him he can go if he wants to, but refuses to part with the $400, which is in her name in the bank. He is just as secure as if he were tied to her by riveted chains.—From the Atchison Globe.

Amusement Notes.

The company possessing capable performers, modern and progressive ideas, a combination of all that is essential in pleasing its patrons is the one sure to gain success. Desirous of providing the class of entertainment demanded by modern theatre-goers, the management of Gorton's Minstrel has outdone all previous efforts, not only in strengthening the personnel of the company, but also in the matter of new wardrobe, new and novel stage effects, and the presentation of all that pertains to high class minstrelsy. A sextette of trained vocalists render the latest ballads and selections. The instrumental music and various specialties fully sustain the reputation of the company, and there is no doubt of their being greeted with crowded houses. The company will appear at the opera house on next Tuesday evening, August 20.

BELIEVE IN DREAMS?

If Yes, What Would You Do In a Case Similar to This?

If you should dream that a man with whom you were acquainted killed his wife, if you vividly saw him plunge a dagger into her heart in your vision, would you tell the wife of your premonition of a tragedy?

This question has been puzzling a number of people in London. A married couple were inspecting a house which was for rent in Surrey some time ago. While the husband inspected the stables the wife remained in the parlor.

Shortly after her husband left the room, the wife said, a man and woman entered. The woman was young and pretty and in tears. The man was angry. After gestulating a few minutes he rushed to the girl, drew a knife from his coat and plunged it through her heart.

With a loud shriek the woman who witnessed the tragedy arose and staggered to the door. She looked about her and saw that the couple had vanished. She realized she had either been dreaming or had seen a vision. When her husband returned she told him her experience. They did not rent the house.

Some time afterward while attending a reception the woman was introduced to a young lady and her fiancé. She recognized the characters of her vision. Later the young couple to whom she had been introduced were married. To her dismay, the woman learned they had leased the very house where she had experienced the harrowing dream.

What was she to do? She asked her friends. They were at a loss to give her advice. The woman was convinced that she was given the premonition of a tragedy. At the same time she dreaded provoking a disagreement in case there should be nothing but a hallucination.

What would you do in such a case? This would depend, of course, as to whether or not you believe in dreams. Do you?

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

As a matter of fact there are no very big fish in small puddles.

You can usually find a pin almost anywhere but in the pin cushion.

A fool is the greatest nuisance in this world. And there are quite a few of them.

It is beyond some men to understand the difference between pomposity and dignity.

We have always wondered what women do with the 2 cents saved in purchasing a two dollar article for $1.98.

Have you ever stopped to admire the self control of the man who can pick up a lead pencil without marking on something?

Every man would have a pretty fair reputation if people looked for his good qualities as carefully as they look for the good qualities of a dog.—Atchison Globe.

Absentminded Gators.

An old colored man who is devotedly religious returned to Brooklyn recently from a trip to Florida, his birthplace, and told his employer about a narrow escape he had had from an alligator. Knowing of the religious zeal of the darky, the employer sought to test his faith.

"What were you afraid of an alligator for?" he asked him. "Don't you know that the Lord will take care of you? Of course you know the story of Jonah and the whale. The whale swallowed Jonah, but Jonah came out all safe enough."

The darky shook his head dubiously. "Yes, boss, I knows about Jonah," he said, "but, then, you see, a whale's got a mem'ry. An alligator ain't got no mem'ry. If a 'gatah swallows you he won't think no mo' about you."—New York Press.

Simplicity's Saving Grace.

"I like simplicity," said the statesman. "Simplicity saves us a lot of trouble too."

"Two men met in front of the Blank hotel the other day and fell into a political argument. They were ordinary, everyday sort of men, but one of them had an extraordinary flow of poly-syllabic language. He talked half an hour, and his companion listened in a daze.

"And now," the speaker pompously concluded, "perhaps you will coincide with me."

"The other's face brightened up."

"Why, yes. Thanks, old man," he answered heartily, moving toward the barroom door, "I don't care if I do."

Querer Smokes.

"Tobacco," said a tobaccoist, "is one of many herbs that are smoked. In the Orient, for instance, bang or cannabie, a drug that gives one the desire to caress people's feet, goes into loads of pipes. Some savages smoke the leaves of the wild potato and the wild tomato. These bitter leaves are narcotic. They throw you into a pleasant stupor. Puffed in, though, they bring insanity. Some of the Swiss guinea smoke 'mountain tobacco,' a weed that grows only at great heights. This stuff produces an intoxication akin to alcohol's. Our Indians, when hard up, smoke holy and sumac leaves and the silvery leaves of Indian tobacco," which every boy has chewed.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Looks That Way.

"I wonder if Mars really is inhabited."

"Don't know, but if Saturn is, I'll bet the politicians own it."

"Think so?"

"Certainly; can't you see the rings?"—Philadelphia Press.
